TEL AVIV FLORA & FAUNA

Tom Soloveitzik

The score presented here was created as a transcription of the studio recording, mainly as a reference for learning purposes and for future live performances. It is not fixed in any sense, nor does it give an indication of how to approach the piece musically (this was discussed before the original performance); its only role is to offer a recollection and an understanding of potential places and spaces in which this organism might reappear.

M: studio rooftop microphone

C: crotales

B: double bass

G: guitar

Y: cymbals

T: tenor & soprano saxophone
